RUBBER.

London, May 29.

Market had firmer tendency. Consumers both from America and Europe, have shown more interest. Demand for off-grades was decidedly improved while prices for distant deliveries tend to approximate the near quotations. Future deliveries have been strong and demand for 1926 shipment was between nineteen to twenty-pence c.i.f., which basis is proving attractive, both to the producer and the consumer. Hope has been expressed that stock here is gradually increasing in order to put trade more on normal basis and also to tend to stabilise prices on level satisfactory both to planters and manufacturers.

MOCATTA'S SILVER REPORT.

London, May 28.

India bought a fair amount of silver for early shipment. China bought forward but latter also sent some selling orders. Continent was very inactive but America was more of a buyer than sellers, quotation of New York silver being slightly above our parity on most days. There is no indication of any important change in price in the near future and the present level of price seems likely to be maintained.

BOMBAY COTTON MARKET.

BOMBAY MARKET.

COTTON.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

May 30.

To-day Reuter reported 4 points lower in old crop and unchanged to 1 point up in new crop in New York futures. Liverpool has been reported 5 to 6 points up. The markets were dull and featureless.

In response to somewhat lower advices to hand from America, the Marwari Bazaar here opened easier at Rs. 438 3/4 i.e. about Rs. 2 lower than yesterday's closing rate for July/August Broach. At the outset Commission Houses and Marwari Shroffs were sellers which caused the market to steadily give way to Rs. 436. Around this level Bazaar operators and general buying improved the price to Rs. 438 but this rate did not last long for on renewed selling by Marwari Shroffs the quotation again declined to Rs. 436 at which price the market at Marwari Bazaar finally closed at 4-30 p.m. At Cotton Depot, the market opened at Rs. 435½ and closed quiet at Rs. 433 at 6-30 p.m. on selling by Japanese Houses.

F. G. M. G. Bengal for July delivery was quoted nominally at Rs. 373.

There was a somewhat improved demand in the Ready market yesterday, the principal enquiry being for nice, Berars and Moglai Cotton and about 6,000 bales were reported to have changed hands.

COUNCIL OF STATE CANDIDATURE.

Mr. H. S. Dikshit who is offering himself as candidate for the seat to be vacated by the hon. Mr. Lalubhai Samaldas in the Council of State in the course of his Election manifesto, writes:—

"I am a solicitor of the Bombay High Court, having been enrolled as such in the year 1887. I had retired from practice some years ago but have now again resumed it. I am also a Vakil of the said High Court and a Notary Public. As to public life, I beg to add that I was a member of the Bombay Municipal Corporation for nearly sixteen years i.e. from 1896 to 1912 and a member of Bombay Legislative Council for 8 years i.e. from 1901 to 1909. I am also an Honorary Fellow of the Bombay University. Both in the Municipal Corporation and in the Legislative Council as also in the University Senate I worked under the able guidance of the late Sir Pherozeshah M. Mehta. I mention this for the purpose of indicating the policy which I would follow in the event of my being elected to the State Council."

PANCHAAYAT FOR BHAYANDER.

A general meeting of the inhabitants of the Village of Bnayder in the Taluka of North Salsette, District Thana, was held in front of the Parochial House at about 9 a.m. on Sunday the 17th instant where a large number of the Villagers including the Village Talati and the Police Patel were present to consider the advisability of establishing a "Panchayat Committee" or a "Notified Area Committee" in the Village as contemplated upon by the Government of Thana and after some deliberate consideration on the subject the Villagers showed their reluctance to accept any of the above Committees for the following main reasons.

That the aborigines of the village as compared with the present population of the village are a small population and of a poorer class hardly able to make two ends meet and the introduction of any of the above Committees will throw them into additional difficulties as they will have to pay the house tax, etc.

That the business in general is at a great depression and therefore their earnings are at a stand still; and

That as regards the general sanitation of the village their contention is that the village at present is clean enough as every one takes care of his front and back of his house with the exception of a few occupants the owners of which may be called upon to look after. The introduction therefore of any of the above Committees it is doubted will do anything better than what the villagers are doing now in respect of the upkeep of the sanitation but on the contrary they will be more troubled as they are poor and will have to pay taxes, etc.

"DONE TO DEATH WITH MASALA STONE".

SUSPECT'S CONFESSION IN CORONER'S COURT.

"I have nothing to conceal. I dashed the stone on his (deceased's) head while he was sleeping on some boxes. I dashed the stone on his head twice while he was lying asleep on the boxes. Then I pulled him down and dashed the stone again on his head and then placed two boxes on his body" was the blunt statement made by Keshava Kondiba, the suspect to the Coroner who held an inquest on Saturday touching the death of Murlidhar Dada, who was alleged to have been done to death by Keshav Kondiba.

Continuing he stated that he and deceased had a quarrell. The deceased wanted him to vacate the room. The deceased threatened on Thursday that if he did not vacate the room he would stab him (suspect). This threat was given to him on the road. As the suspect was afraid that the deceased might carry out his threat he killed. The deceased.

Avadabai, the wife of the suspect deposed that nine persons lived in the room which was in the name of her husband jointly with several others. Keshava, her husband had quarrels with other inmates of the rooms in order that they might quit the room so that he may have the room to himself. On Friday after other occupants had left the room the suspect, deceased who was her sister-in-law's husband, Gangaram and herself were in the room. A little later Gangaram, the nephew of the deceased went to the latrine. The deceased was sleeping. When Gangaram went out, her husband fastened the door from inside, picked up the masala stone from the rear, raised it up and dashed it on the head of the deceased. The deceased did not raise cries. Her husband again picked up the stone and dashed it on the deceased's head twice or tarice. She saw all this from her bed where she was lying. The suspect then dragged the deceased on the ground and again dashed the stone on his head. Her husband then picked up the stone and placed it back in the nahini. He asked her then to pour water on his hands to wash them. In the meantime Gangaram knocked at the door. Her husband did not open the door for a while. When he opened the door he went and allowed Gangaram to come in. Gangaram when he saw the deceased in a pool of blood, raised an alarm, people collected and the police repaired to the spot.

A verdict of death due to fracture of the skull as a result of the suspect Keshav Kondiba having dashed the "masala" stone on the head of the deceased was recorded. The act of the suspect amounted to murder.

The Magistrate remanded the accused to jail custody till June 12.

ALLEGED IMPERSONATION.

Raghu Raoji was put up before Mr. S. S. Rangnekar, Chief Presidency Magistrate, for impersonating as a police constable.

The facts of the case were that the accused engaged the victoria of Jagoo Larkhu at Pydhownie May 26, at 1-30 a.m. and asked him to drive to Kamatipura. He represented himself as a policeman. There he made the Victoria-driver to stand him for a cup of tea and cigarettes. The accused forbade him to take a passenger and again asked him to drive to Sankli Street. There too, he made the Victoria-driver give him a cup of tea. Then he asked him to drive again to Lamington Road where the Victoria driver complained to a policeman who, it was alleged, discovered that the accused was an imposter. The case is adjourned.

KNOCKED DOWN BY TRAIN.

Rao Bahadur B. N. Athavale held an inquest touching the death of an unknown Hindu male aged 35 years, when a verdict of death due to fracture of the skull as result of his being run over by a G. I. P. Ry. train was recorded.

The evidence showed that on Friday at 5-55 a.m. an engine driver, driving No. 85 Down local saw the body of a man lying on the rails under Oliphant Bridge, Nesbit Road. He went to Byculla station and reported the matter to Asst. Station Master on duty. The deceased's head was smashed and he was bleeding from nose and ears. The body was removed to the morgue. No persons came forward to claim the body.

"LUCRETIA LOMBARD" AT PATHE CINEMA.

"Lucretia Lombard", the picture version of Kathleen Norris famous novel, opens at the Pathe Cinema this week. This picture is an example of perfect characterisation, a rare art. It shows what can be done with a good novel, in the way of giving life and reality to fictitious characters by choosing the players with extreme care.

In casting the characters for this picture the producer has chosen Irene Rich and Monte Blue to play the leading parts.

Irene Rich is recognised as one of Film Land's greatest emotional artists. To those of us who have read the novel, it seems that the author must have had Irene Rich in mind when describing Lucretia Lombard as the patient and beautiful woman, the wife of a crabbed old invalid. She plays her part naturally and gracefully.

Monte Blue another star that pictures goers like enacts the part of Stephen Winship, the young district attorney, who finds himself interested in a loveless marriage, just when he responds to the love of the now free Lucretia. Monte Blue is another example of grit and talent.

The settings are of great charm and it contains some of the most realistic fire and water scenes yet screened.

LAST SHIP FOR HEDJAZ.

PILGRIMS TO ARRIVE IN BOMBAY BEFORE 5TH JUNE.

Maulana Shaukat Ali has issued the following Press message on the 30th May:—

All intending pilgrims for the last pilgrim boat "Alavi" must reach Bombay before 5th and Karachi before 7th June. Turner Morrison Company will send this fine ship if even 600 pilgrims are available. Booking for the "Gurjistan" stopped to-day. Over hundred pilgrims are already in Bombay Musafirkhanas. There must be some at Karachi also. Reach Bombay or Karachi in time. Do not delay and wire number coming. Request the Nationalist Press continue publishing daily this announcement prominently.

LAST SHIP "AKBAR,"

TO LEAVE BOMBAY ON 4TH JUNE.

Maulana Shaukat Ali writes under date May 31:—

Nimazi Company's "Gurjestan" left for Rabigh with 509 pilgrims including 71 women at about 4.30 p.m. It will pick up about 400 more pilgrims at Karachi and is expected to reach Rabigh by the 20th June. It is a good going Ship but old and not so roomy as the "Jehangir" or "Akbar". Booking is commenced for the last pilgrimship "Akbar" which sails on 4th or 5th June. Both the pilgrim Deptt and the Shipping Company deserve credit for sending the biggest and the fastest boat with as many pilgrims as they can get at Bombay and Karachi. The "Akbar" expects to reach Rabigh by 21st or 22nd June without fail. The last batch of pilgrims will probably have most comfortable journey. On both days 30th and 31st Bokharis made a rush to get better seats, but better controlled than last time. Indian pilgrims took things easily though they complained of shortage of accomodation. There is slight improvement at Disinfection Shed, but good deal remains to be done. All intending pilgrims must reach Bombay by fourth morning and Karachi by sixth morning.

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL.

Mr. Lutfur Rehman, General Secretary, Y. M. M. A., Bombay writes:—

It is now a matter of public knowledge that there was a free fight between the Nejdis and Hedjazis both in the meeting at Chota Kabarstan and in the Musafirkhana, where they were staying. Three on each side were injured and both parties went to Court.

As this news reached Haji Mohammed Ali Zainul Raza, the renowned pearl merchant and wealthiest Hedjazi Arab of this City. He invited both the parties to his place on the night of the 20th instant and in his usual persuasive way exhorted both the parties and brought about an amicable settlement between them. They pardoned one another by kissing one another's forehead in the true Arab way. Both the parties withdrew their cases from the Court. All's well that ends well.

MADELINE ROSSITER.

FAREWELL NIGHT TO-DAY.

Laughter and more laughter was the order of the night at the Excelsior Theatre on Saturday, when Miss Madeline Rossiter and her Company presented to a crowded house, a complete change of programme in what they called. "Topsy Turvy". The idea was quite original and almost every artist, having acquitted himself or herself most creditably received "cruel" encores from the audience; "cruel" because in their appreciation, the appreciative audience forgot the fatigue to which the artists were subjected. But the actors and actresses in Madame Madeline Rossister's Company were one with the audience and whatever pleased the latter pleased the former too.

The Company will give a farewell performance to-night and one cannot too strongly recommend Bombay theatre-goers not to miss the last chance of paying them a visit.

SPECULATION MANIA

PANIC IN SHARE BAZAR

MARKET CLOSED.

The recent speculation in the shares of Bombay Dyeing and Century Mills reached its climax yesterday when the market had to be closed. The former opened at Rs. 160 in Bombay Dyeing and at Rs. 390 in Century, but soon gave way to a panicky state as a result of rumours that the bull operator was not in the office. Bombay Dyeing transacted upto Rs. 730 and Century at Rs. 345 and the market as a result of the collapse was closed by the order of the Directors at about quarter to 1. The panic and the consequent closing of the market have caused immense excitement among the brokers and there is much speculation as to how the Directors will deal with the situation. However the settlement is arrived at, it is feared that not a few brokers will suffer heavily and many a genuine investor will become a victim of the recent orgy speculation.

The collapse of the B. Dyeing and Century shares had its effect on other shares also which dropped from Rs. 5 to Rs. 25, Fazal dropping to Rs. 775. Nagpur to Rs. 445 and New Great to Rs. 320.

BHARAT ITIHAS SANSHODHAK MANDAL.

POONA CITY, May 30.

The thirteenth annual gathering of the Bharat Itihas Sanshodhak Mandal commenced its sittings here on the 30th inst. Mr. C. V. Vaidya welcomed the members and guests and spoke about the importance of historical research particularly that of India. Historical work, he pointed out, was necessary to remove false and fictitious notions. Describing the results of his recent tours in the Punjab he observed that the ancient name of India was Bharat after the name of Bharat, son of Manu.

After the welcome speech Shri Shankaracharya Dr. Kurtkoti in a short speech gave his blessing and announced his help to the Mandal. The Secretary, Prof Potdar then read messages of good wishes from the Chiefs of Ehor and Aundh. Dr. Aiyengar and Sen. etc. Mr. S. V. Apte then read a paper based on an official letter of Shivajee to Raji Prabhu dated Shake 1580 which clearly showed how Baji was not an insignificant person as lately contended by some, but a trusty officer. The paper sent by Dr. Sen of Calcutta giving a brief survey of the Portuguese records of Maratha history was read next. Mr. K. K. Lele's paper showing the importance and work of the Powar family in Maratha history and its work before the Panipat days was then read. The Secretary announced that Sardars Balaschch, Vincharkar Shastri, Patwardhan, Rao Saheb Raste had become patrons of the Mandal paying Rs. 1,250 each along with other donations.—A. P.

MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1925.

WILL GOVERNMENT ACT?

The Government of Bombay could be presumed, from the reputation which Bombay holds as a business centre, to be a business Government. Such a presumption would be supported by the fact that several of the Indian members of the Executive Council have been recruited from that class of multiple directors, who are men of repute in the business world and have some stake in the country. As a matter of fact, apart from Ministers representing communal or class interests, the Government of Bombay have kept outside their fold other men of talent who cannot lay claim to a considerable accumulated bank balance. It is possible that some purpose of State policy has been served by the continuous patronage of a particular class. There is no doubt that many of the occupants of, and most of the aspirants to, these high places have been emasculated in their fight on behalf of the public on issues which affect the well-being of the community. Constituted as the Government of Bombay, therefore, are, it is a matter of some surprise that they should allow the slow and painful process of business strangulation, which is going on in the Province, to take its course without giving any evidence of their concern. The reply to the deputation, which waited on His Excellency the Governor in connection with the excise duty, lacked re-assurance, and though there is reason to believe that the Government of Bombay have written to the Government of India on this subject, that is possibly the only occasion during the last few years when they have given proof of a realisation of those protective obligations which every administration owes to industry and trade. Such neglect may not have been attended with serious consequences in the years of prosperity. Like the fifth wheel in the scheme of things the Government of Bombay have claimed merit and prestige from such prosperity. They have sent round the inevitable tax-gatherer and they have during the period of war and subsequently used every shred of their influence to collect loans for various purposes.

If the function of a Government is protective, then, so far as trade and industry are concerned, the protective activities of the Government of Bombay will fill a very small space in the history of this country even if their immediate inaction is condoned and their policy during the last few decades is considered. The Industries Department of the Government of Bombay was a misnomer and an eye-sore and has figured largely on the expenditure side without yielding any results. The Government of Bombay have imposed on industry additional burdens including the duty on the cotton trade and in regard to the excise revenue they have failed to respond to popular views. The pioneer industry of the province has received little attention from them. The present crisis, which is mainly due to the depression in the mill industry and in every other manufacturing effort on account of the adverse exchange policy pursued by the Finance Member, has resulted in a feeble protest from a few individuals, which has found no helpful echo from the Government of the province. The Government of Madras, when Madras suffered from floods last year, beside giving relief out of their own funds made valiant efforts to secure from the Government of India such help as was possible. The Government of Bombay have assumed the position of a sphinx and have shown themselves to possess feet of clay in the face of the grave financial situation in which the city and through it the Presidency finds itself.

The failure of the Government of Bombay to take remedial measures on behalf of trade and industry offers a melancholy contrast to their mismanagement of the "development" venture in the city which they have undertaken. With this we propose to deal on future occasions in detail. In the meanwhile what the Government appear to have done for the economic amelioration of the people is to welcome an economic enquiry, not for the sake of remedying economic evils, but for the sake of clearing up "misapprehensions" with regard to British rule which have been given currency in various quarters! The Government utilised the opportunity of the Taxation Committee to reward an ex-Minister, who had failed to secure popular support at the polls. In the meanwhile, the arrangements of the Meston Award, which are draining away the resources of Bombay, remain unaltered by any action of theirs. The question naturally arises whether the Government of Bombay are a purely municipal administration, whose dabbling in larger questions affecting the community will be resented in higher quarters. One looks in vain in the speeches of H. E. the Governor for any evidence of some activity to improve matters, and while we have no desire to be unfair to them, we are only giving expression to the feelings of the public when we say that a more active effort should be made by the Government of Bombay to help and protect the industry of the Presidency than has hitherto been made by them. The demand for provincial autonomy arises from, amongst other things, the consciousness that the Government of India in their isolation do not always take proper count of factors affecting local interests, which they cannot gauge, or of estimating local public opinion, which may not always reach them through the usual channels. It is also due to the realisation that the provincial administrations as at present constituted are helpless to do good. If this were not so, how is it that the public do not know what the Government of Bombay are doing about the present depression and its root-cause which lies in the exchange policy of the Government of India. We trust that even now while we are writing, this matter is engaging the attention of the Government of Bombay and that H. E. Sir Leslie Wilson will signalise his regime by prompt action, which will give evidence of his interest in the prosperity of the province and at the same time secure the reconciliation of the various elements at present distracted through the unnatural conditions both in the money market and in the business world. Is it too much to expect that the Government of Bombay will rise above their humdrum routine and ponder over larger issues, which will have permanent influence on the welfare and good name of Bombay?

FRANCE, BRITAIN AND MOROCCO

The much-advertised three days' debate in the French Chamber on the Moroccan question has fizzled out and the Government has secured a vote of confidence by 537 votes to 29. The hugeness of the majority, Reuter's Paris correspondent says, is due to the careful phrasing of the resolution notably to meet the susceptibilities of the Socialists who stipulated the insertion of a reference to the "pacific policy" recording the opposition to colonial expansion. The Socialists have salved their conscience by lip-service to pacific intention and the Government which has secured their moral support has been left free to execute the "pacific policy" according to its discretion. The French campaign in Morocco has been officially explained as a protective measure against Abdul Kerim's raids. But it is curious that in order to repel these forays, all the resources of the French Republic have to be mobilised. According to "Temps" the French Government has provided Marshal Lyautey with all means necessary for swift, decisive action—battalions of colonial and native troops, strong detachments of engineers and artillery, and air bombing units. Why? Because "in Morocco," the paper says, "French prestige is stake." It is, of course, not necessary to explain why French prestige is at stake in Morocco and why it can only be saved by the destruction of the only non-European independent State in North Africa. To every quarrel there are two sides. Reuter's has not so far informed us about Abdul Kerim's view of it, and it is not to the interest of France that the true nature of the "pacification" of the Riffs should be exposed. But truth, like murder, will be out. The "Daily Herald" in mail week made sensational revelations about the Franco-Riff situation which bring into relief the utterly cynical and hypocritical attitude of European politicians in their dealings with the League of Nations and the smaller States.

The correspondent, in the first place, acquaints us with the interesting fact, brought to light by the Communist Deputy, Andre Berthon, in "L'Humanite", that he met Abdul Kerim in Paris in the spring of 1923, while the Riff leader was on a secret visit to France, with the permission o the Poincare Ministry. During this visit Abdul Kerim had several interviews with the officials of the Quai d' Orsay, and was apparently encouraged to expect support from M. Poincare in his resistance to the Spaniards, in return, according to M. Berthon, for his acceptance of a French protectorate over the Riff. This, Abdul Kerim naturally refusod and later, as is now known, the Poincare Government and its successors joined Spain in its campaign against the Riffs. The refusal, then, of Abdul Kerim to sign away the freedom of his people is the menace to French "prestige" for the vindication of which the present campaign of "pacification" has been undertaken. The campaign, the "Daily Herald" correspondent says, is to be pursued by one means or another—diplomatic, economic or military—until the Riff leader is summarily defeated. But its success requires joint Franco-Spanish expedition, which has been secretly prepared in Madrid for some months past—so that Abdul Kerim's forces may be caught between a French attack from the South and a renewed Spanish offensive from the North—and possible French intervention in the Spanish zone. Since this intervention raises questions of international agreements, M. Briand, according to the "Daily Herald" correspondent, is reported to have instructed M. de Fleurian, French Ambassador in London, to enter at once into conversations with the British Foreign Office, with a view to securing the benevolent indifference of Great Britain to any Franco-Spnish agreement regarding Morocco which, the correspondent adds, is already in being and only awaits the consent of England to be bruited openly. Downing Street, however, cannot be expected to play the role of disinterested onlooker without a consideration. So the French Ambassador is to offer not merely French support for British claims to Mosul but also a revision of the French frontier in Syria to the advantage of Mesopotamia. "Such" the correspondent adds, "is the importance that the French Government, and in particular its supporters among the bankers, particularly the Banque de Paris et des Pays Bas, attach to Morocco, and their vital interests in that rich and rapidly developing colony".

The "Daily Herald's" exposure of the real nature of the war against the Riffs has been confirmed by a significant statement by M. Painleve, the French Premier, that the French "are acting in Morocco in full accord with the British and Spanish Government." This, in short, is the explanation of the silence of the British Government and the failure of the League of Nations—which is supposed to exist to substitute Right for Might and to adjust international diputes by arbitration rather than force but which in reality is an instrument of the imperialist Powers—to do anything to prevent the enormous loss of life and the sufferings of innocent people. The silence and the failure are the more reprehensible in view of the fact disclosed by the "Daily Herald" that Abdul Kerim has tried in vain to appeal through Great Britain to the League of Nations and will still welcome an impartial enquiry into his attitude and the causes of the French offensive. The Riffs may love their freedom, but they have committed the crime of owning a land rich in minerals. Of what signficance is, therefore, their freedom compared with the philanthropic desire of a great imperial Power to exploit it and with the vast stakes involved in the extention of Mosul under the British protectorate?

Notes of the Day.

The Mountain in Labour.

The speeches of Lord Birkenhead and the replies of Lord Winterton to questions in the Commons have made it clear that the outcome of the mission of Lord Reading will be for the benefit not of India but of the bureaucracy. According to the "Hindu" the Government of India have addressed to the Local Governments on the subject of the recommendations of the Majority Report of the Muddiman Committee, ignoring the Minority report altogether. The Government of India have evidently taken their cue from Whitehall where Lords Reading and Birkenhead are busy devising plans for the immediate future. Their cynical contempt for public opinion is revealed in the studied nonchalance with which they have invited the opinions of the Local Governments regarding the transfer of boilers, gas and housing of labour as recommended by the Muddiman majority and their objections regarding the transfer of Forests in Provinces other than Bombay and Burma where it is now a transferred subject. It is not difficult to discover the object of this piecemeal reference to Local Governments. The reference is a part of the conspiracy to prepare the ground for the execution of predetermined decisions.

POLITICS IN MAHARASHTRA.

LIKES AND DISLIKES.

(BY L. G. K.)

II.

The triumph of Gaikwadwada politics at Satara was really the triumph of Mr. Vithalbhai J. Patel. We are so well aware in Bombay of the remarkable gifts of political opportunism that our Ex-President of the Municipal Corporation possesses, that it should not come to us as a surprise to learn about his first striking success, off his own bat. At the end of the Nagpur Congress Session, in 1920, Mr. V. J. Patel found himself in very deep water. He was no longer the General Secretary of the Congress, he was no longer anybody in the Congress hierarchy. With the item of Council boycott he had previous little sympathy, with the spectacular uses of Khaddar he had every sympathy and he has made full use of it, but he was not the man to lose heart, and he knew to bide his time. Great was his admiration, after 1920, for the Maharashtrian stalwarts, the disciples of the Lokamanya, and although his professed reverence for the Mahatma, as we are all aware, has not abated an inch, he has with the help of the Poona Responsive Cooperationists made a progress of several inches in a direction absolutely opposite to that which Gandhiji wishes India to follow. The alliance between Mr. Patel and his group on the one part, and Mr. Kelkar and his friends on the other, took definite form, when Mr. Patel in the company of three ex-lawyers, who had devoted themselves to the Gandhi programme, launched upon an expedition of inquiry into the preparedness of the masses for Civil Disobedience, and found that all the three ex-lawyers were prepared about one thing—the necessity of Council entry to fight the bureaucracy with weapons of non-co-operation "from within." Not that Mr. V. J. Patel does not believe in Civil Disobedience but great is the satisfaction in Poona when the followers of the Lokamanya observe how this political Petrarch loves the Laura of Civil Disobedience only at arm's length. In Poona they look upon Mr. Patel as really a champion of responsive cooperation. In Mr. Patel's camp, the Kelkar policy as exposed every week in the "Kesari" is hailed as the right type of Swarajist policy Mr. Kelkar could safely fly under the colours of the full fledged obstructionist, although a champion of responsive co-operation. Mr. Patel, although the complete Swarajist is, as we all know, always ready for honourable co-operation. But I am afraid, it is an alli-

WAR ON IMPERIALISM

SHANGHAI STUDENTS AGAINST FOREIGNERS.

POLICE FIRE ON RESTIVE CROWD.

SHANGHAI, May 30.

Three hundred Chinese students, marching in procession through the main street and distributing anti-foreign pamphlets were ordered by the police to disperse. The students refused to obey the order whereupon the police arrested the ringleaders. The remainder, however, attacked the police station and a volley was fired over the attackers' heads, but without result. The police then fired point blank killing six and wounding four.

The disorders are the climax of anti-Japanese feeling since the strike in the Tsing-Tao cotton mills.

The police attribute the trouble to the killing of a Chinese worker by a Japanese foreman in connection with the mill strike. The infuriated crowd knocked down two British policemen amid cries of "Kill foreigners" and attempted to seize their arms.

Pamphlets which were distributed to-day denounced "the British, American, French and Japanese imperialism which has robbed China of a lot of money" and urged "War on Imperialism."—Reuter.

BOMB OUTRAGE.

LAHORE MONEY-LENDER MURDERED

LAHORE, May 29.

A message received to-day from Chakwal in the Jhelum district states that one Devidas Malhotra, a wealthy money lender of Chakwas was murdered at about midnight on 26th by some unknown persons. It is reported that the cause of the death was a bomb thrown at the deceased. The Police are investigating into the outrage, but so far no clue to the culprits has been found. The people of Chakwas suspects some conspiracy. The affair is the first of its kind in the Punjab. No political significance however is attached to the outrage.—A. P.

ALLEGED GIRL KIDNAPPING.

CHARGES AGAINST ZAMINDARS.

HYDERABAD (Sind), May 30.

A sensational case of alleged police torture in which a Police Sub-Inspector and five Syed Zamindars are being tried under Sections 366, 367 and 342 is being heard by the Deputy Collector, Hala Division in the Hyderabad District. The accused are charged with kidnapping, with the object of illicit intercourse, an unmarried girl of 21 years by taking her away bodily by force with the help of a large body of men armed with sticks, committing rape on her step-mother as reprisal and unlawfully arresting and detaining in police custody the girl's father and four others. It is alleged by the complainant, the mother of the kidnapped girl, that a fortnight back one of the accused zamindars Syed Aminshah, who was after her daughter for some time past entered her house accompanied by the other accused at a time when all the male members of the family were away and forcibly removed her daughter Musamat Dadi and some cash and jewellery. They took away the girl and illegally confined her in a house with a view to compel her to illicit intercourse. When her husband the father of Dadi came to know of this he went and rescued Dadi, but the same evening the accused zamindars accompanied by some armed constables and thirty to forty other men surrounded their village and raided their house. Next morning, the complainant alleges, the accused Sub-Inspector also joined them and began to use pressure and coercion on her husband and other relatives to hand over Dadi to Syed Aminshah which they refused to do. On the contrary, they begged of the Sub-Inspector to protect them from the zoolum and atrocity and reported to him the previous day's occurrence, but he did not listen and ultimately arrested and removed her two daughters, Dadi and another, her husband and four other male members of the household to the police thana leaving her alone in the house. Immediately after, it is alleged, Syed Aminshah accompanied by another accomplice entered her house and criminally assaulted her. She struggled hard against them and received injuries. Her husband, four others and her second daughter were all later released from police custody, but Dadi was handed over to Syed Aminshah and was detaine by him.

The complainant has cited 12 Hindu and Muslim witnesses.—A. P.

BOLSHEVISTS' PASSPORTS.

LONDON, May 29.

An semi-official announcement denies the report that the Government has declined to renew, the visas of passports of 680 Russian traders. It states, however, that the visas will not be renewed in the case of a number of Russians whose activities have rendered their presence in France undesirable. The statement does not define the exact extent of the French action.—Reuter.

RHINE FRONTIER

BRITAIN AND ITS INTEGRITY

PLEDGE TO FULFIL TREATY OBLIGATIONS.

LONDON, May 29.

According to a semi-official statement Anglo-French differences are rapidly narrowing down, though they are yet to be completely removed. It is understood that the British memorandum which was delivered to-day dwells on the necessity of suitable arbitration treaties supplementing the Rhine Security Pact with a view to guaranteeing the peace of other parts of Europe.—Reuter.

LONDON, May 30.

According to authoritative statements in London and Paris yesterday, clarification of the situation as between the British and the French viewpoints regarding the Security Pact has so far progressed that a complete agreement may shortly be expected. Neither in London nor in Paris is it stated wherein the outstanding difference is consisted but the comments of Paris and Berlin newspapers to-day indicate that Britain insists on the limitation of the Security Pact to Germany's western frontiers, as Germany has proposed.

Yesterday's London statements said that the expectation of the agreement was based on the hope and belief that France would adopt suggestions representing an unanimous view of the British Government. This is interpreted by Berlin "Boersen Comier" as something like an ultimatum, while French writer "Pertinax" says that Britain repeats her formula of splendid isolation which is only an encouragement of German revenge in Eastern Europe. He adds that Belgium approves of the British viewpoint.—Reuter.

PARIS, May 31.

The "Havas" Agency's diplomatic correspondent confirms the report that Britain and France have virtually agreed on the principal points of the note to Germany in reply to the German proposals regarding the Security Pact. It is thought that the remaining details would be settled in time to enable the note to be sent to Berlin within a fortnight.

Britain declares her readiness to use all her strength to guarantee the integrity of the Rhine frontier, but refuses to pledge herself to military intervention in the event of Germany's violating the Eastern frontiers. But Britain repeats her desire to faithfullly fulfil her engagements under the peace treaties; consequently in the event of conflict she will probably be brought to support diplomatically the claims of the state attacked. Britain also admits that France should retain complete liberty of action as conferred on her by the League covenant. Article 243, Sub-section 3. In coming to defence of integrity of her Eastern frontiers, the military forces of France will in this case have to receive free passage through Germany(?)—Reuter.

MAHATMA AND DR. TAGORE

DISCUSSION ON CASTE SYSTEM AND CHARKHA.

SANTINIKETAN, May 30.

Mahatma Gandhi visited Santiniketan Ashram on Friday night. He will stay there till Tuesday.

On Saturday he visited Raja Dwijendranath Tagore and received a touching welcome. He then paid a visit to Dr. Rabindranath Tagore accompanied by Mr. C. F. Andrews. The poet has been very ill and has only very slightly recovered. At the conversation which took place between Mahatma Gandhi and Dr. Tagore the first subject was that of Varnashrama Dharma. Dr. Tagore expressed his disapproval of the doctrine altogether in its modern form and regarded it as one of the chief weakness of Hinduism. Mahatma Gandhi defended his own interpretation of it stating that he did not like the modern sub-divisions into innumerable sub-castes, but that he did not believe in a vocational division of manhood in which there was no question of inferior or superior, but rather of different functions being performed in the body of humanity. The poet still contended that to make this depend on birth was unscientific and unnatural because in mankind nature aimed at variety and personal choice and freedom.

Dr. Tagore then asked Mahatma Gandhi to explain the doctrine of the Charka and Khaddar. The latter explained at very great length his own meaning giving abundant illustrations from his recent tour in East Bengal showing how it levelled the rich and the poor and created brotherhood and human sympathy. Dr. Tagore listened with great attention, his own thoughts being always concerned with the amelioration of the village life of India. The conversation which lasted for nearly three hours was indecisive.—A. P.

RAILWAY STRIKE.

MEN'S IMMEDIATE DEMANDS.

ANSWER TO AGENT'S COMMUNIQUE.

KARACHI, May 30.

Mr. A. D. Sweeney, President, N. W. R. Union Kotri wires: The strikers and the public all remember the details of the strike and the inconsistencies and incongruities of the Agent's communiques. His last one dated the 28th instant is still another proof of being blind to the logic of facts. The Agent's obduracy has created a greater spirit of union than any efforts of leaders hitherto and men will not drift as he adroitly concludes. Four long years of bitter grievances and injustice must be redressed. That is our purpose of which the Agent is perfectly aware. The recognition of Mr. J. B. Miller, our Union respected and established will alone make men resume work. The hint of considerable anxiety and uneasiness is not in the strikers' minds but in the Agent's who should play the game and not shoulder further responsibility on to the head of Government.

STRIKERS' IMPOSING PROCESSION.

FLAG DYED WITH THEIR OWN BLOOD

LAHORE, May 30.

A procession of about ten thousand North Western Railway strikers passed through the main streets of Lahore to-day. The peculiar feature of the procession was that the strikers were carrying a flag which had been dyed red with their own blood thus showing that they were ready to go to the extreme length of shedding their own blood for the sake of their demands. Mr. M. A. Khan, General Secretary of the Union was the first to draw blood from his finger by means of a razor and write his name with his own blood on the flag. Others followed and drew blood from various parts of their bodies and dyed the flag with their blood. There was a good deal of excitement and enthusiasm among the strikers.—A. P.

AGENT'S COMMUNIQUE.

LAHORE, May 30.

"During last week there have been further attempts with negligible results to allure from duty the impressionable illiterate staff on the Kalka Simla Railway and at Ambala" says the Agent, N. W. R., in a communique issued to-day. "Mischievous elements have also been active at the general stores, Moghulpura and at Ferozepore, Jullundur and Khanpur, but their failure at each of these places has been complete. As heretofore all train services have been fully maintained and there has been no restriction of booking. Steady flow of re-engagements has continued and both the workshops at Rawalpindi are now working up to their full establishment." It will be remembered that it was in these shops that the trouble started towards the end of March.—A. P.

FRENCH CHAMBER AND MOROCCO.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE CARRIED.

LONDON, May 29.

Paris.—On the conclusion of the three days' debate on the Moroccan question, the Chamber passed, a vote of confidence in the Government by 537 votes to 29. The hugeness of the majority is due to careful phrasing of the resolution notably to meet, the susceptibilities of the Socialists who stipulated, the insertion of a reference to the "pacific policy" recording the opposition to colonial expansion.—Reuter.

STAR CHAMBER METHODS

IMPOSITION OF PUNITIVE POLICE.

PROTEST AGAINST MADRAS GOVT'S ACTION.

MADRAS, May 29.

The Government of Madras has issued a Press communique regarding the imposition of punitive police at Gooty and 24 other villages. This is the second communique on the same subject and has been necessitated by comments in the Press and on the platforms.

In the course of the communique the Government maintains the stand it made when it issued the original communique namely that there was considerable apprehension of a serious breach of the peace and security to life and property and that all that the Government did in imposing punitive police was to quarter a number of men in the locality to see that breaches of the peace did not occur and that the ordinary avocations of the people might proceed without interruption.

It was also decided by the Government that the actual allocation of the cost of the police would be made by the local authorities with due reference to persons really responsible for the present state of things. The Government then explains in detail the circumstances under which it imposed the punitive police by reference to the longstanding feud between the two Reddy families in Gooty which dates so far back as 1900 and intermittent quarrels, dacoities and murders resulting from this feud. The Government has also studied with care the reports of the District Magistrate, Anantapur and the Inspector-General of Police who are of opinion that the imposition of punitive police is the only possible means of establishing a state of security in these villages.

GOVT'S. STAR CHAMBER METHODS.

MADRAS, May 30.

Dewan Bahadur P. Kesava Pillai, Deputy President of the Madras Legislative Council wiring to the press from Chittoor says that the Government press communique regarding the Gooty punitive police is a most reprehensible document because it has referred in inflamed partisan language to cases pending before the High Court. He asks whether the Government is above the contempt of court and observes that by adopting star chamber methods it has committed a gross contempt by assuming the police versions for established facts for the justification of their new amazing policy.—A.P.

Lord and Lady Allenby will sail from Port Said on 14th June. Prior to their departure they will be entertained to banquets by King Faud, the British Army, British community, Turf Club and to tea parties by the Egyptian notables. PRINCE IN BASUTOLAND.

ADVICE TO NATIVES.

MASERU, May 20.

A huge crowd greeted the Prince of Wales who was presented with several addresses. Native horsemen were not allowed to approach the crowd owing to the risk of casualties among pedestrains. The Prince of Wales later visited the Native Leper Hospital where the inmates were most cheerful.

His Royal Highness and the principal guests were accommodated on a special stone stand. The Paramount Chief delivered a speech welcoming the Prince and expressing gratitude to Britain for the blessings of peace and prosperity.

The Prince of Wales in reply referred to the King's "fatherly care" for the Basotos. He urged them to listen to their instructors who would help them to educate their children and teach them how to make the best use of their land.

The Prince of Wales was in the full-dress uniform of Colonel of the Welsh Guards with his breast ablaze with medals which deeply impressed the natives. After speeches of the Native Chiefs, the Prince handed a goldmounted stick to the Paramount Chief and silver-mounted sticks to half dozen other chiefs.

Subsequently the Prince played polo scoring three goals out of eight for his side. —Reuter.

INDORE NOTES.

BAWLA CASE JUDGMENT.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

INDORE, May 27.

The weather continues to be hot. The sky is covered with clouds. There are no signs of the monsoon breaking up son.

This year's gathering of Ladies' Club was very successful. The premises of the club were tastefully decorated and a state band played a nice selection of music. Both the Maharanis graced the occasion by their presence. The Princesses with their companions and Princess Sanyogita, wife of the Heir Apparent, were present along with other members of the Royal household. Mrs. Hoodlikar B.A., Mrs. Inamdar, Mrs. Kibe and others took lively interest in making the function a success. After the reading of the report there were two interesting speeches followed by refreshments which the Household Department had provided. Over five hundred ladies attended the gathering. After the playing of the Holkar National Anthem the Royal party departed.

Sometime back there was a terrible fire in Marota Bazar where there are shops of Borahs. On account of scarcity of water the fire spread and destroyed several houses. The Municipal fire brigade and a party of soldiers helped in putting out the fire. H H. the Maharaja Saheb was present with his staff and was seen encouraging State servants and the police in bringing the fire under control. His Highness's presence had magic effect and the fire was put out in a couple of hours.

This year's B.A. results of Holkar State College were very encouraging. Eleven out of twelve passed the B.A. of Allahabad University. Among the successful candidate it is the pleasure to read the name of Mr Matkar who is a Dhangarh by caste and second son of General Matkar.

Anna Sahib Gaikwar, whose name was heard in the begining of Bawla Murder investigation, and who is a State Jagirdar left Indore for Kolhapur. Mr. Lathe who was a reader to His Highness is transferred and Mr. Nana Pasha Guffle who was formerly in State service is again taken back as reader to the Maharaja.

CLOUDS ON THE FRONTIER

"HINDUS THREATENED WITH VIOLENCE."

A DERA ISMAIL LEAFLET.

The "Hindustan Times" writes:—

On the morning of the 15th instant some type-written advertisements "Alarm" were seen hanging against the walls of the buildings of almost all the leading Hindus of Dera Ismail Khan (N W. F. P.), which created a great fear and sensation in the town. Thereupon the Hindus sent a deputation to the Deputy Commissioner to take any suitable action in this matter and it is said that the Deputy Commissioner (Lt.-Col. Bruce) gave them every satisfaction to pacify their grievances by saying that he would institute proper enquiries. On the 16th evening he had a confidential committee of the officials of the district and discussed the situation. It is assumed that these advertisements were pasted at one time in the night and by many persons. The Deputy Commissioner has called upon the police to answer why they did not arrest the men who pasted these leaflets when the police is always on duty from 7 p.m. to 6 a.m. in the morning.

On the following day, a few envelops were addressed to the leading Musalmans of the district on which service stamps were affixed. This fact and their resemblance with those leaflets aroused suspicion and the letters were opened by the Postmaster. The contents were an appeal to the Musalmans to harm the Hindu community, bearing in mind the Kohat tragedy when orphans and women (Musalman) were massacred and Muslim buildings were destroyed by the Hindus. Thereupon the Superintendent of Post Offices (a Musalman gentleman) who phoned who carried these letters personally to the D.C. The state of affairs is very critical. And there is a great misunderstanding among both the communities—the Musalmans blame the Hindus that it was their own act who wanted to defame them and the Hindus retort that the Musalmans had become aggressive. Nothing definitely can be said as to who is at the bottom.

THE LEAFLET.

The following is a true copy of the leaflet which has threatened the Hindus with violence:—

"Our programme commences from June 1925 to August 1925 (inclusively.) Our Confidential Anjuman has decided to work against the Hindus of the Frontier Province and we begin our work at D. I. Khan first. The Hindus are not even supposed to reside in our home, i.e. province unless they agree to our proposals.

"The Hindus, if they like to remain on excellent terms with the Mahomedans, must follow our June programme; otherwise they should expect to be treated as outlaws in our programme in July and of August. Please examine them as under:

"The Hindus would be in perfect peace and safety if they agree to the following conditions:—By accepting Mahomedanism or by making marriage relations with Mahomedans as they had done with the Moghul Kings or, lastly, by quitting this province immediately. The undernoted families, as for example, are challenged and would be our first victims: (1) R. B. Diwan Jagannath Secretary, (2) R.S.L. Thakar Das Dhawan, (3) Seth Gopi Chand, Govt. treasurer, (4) Pandit Jotha Nand Zaildar, (5) Seth Belu Ram and Sons, (6) Seth Rochi Ram, Contractor, (7) Seth Jesa Ram, Bhatia, (8) Dr. Bhagwan Datta, (9) Seth Bhan Mall, (10) Mullick Basant Lall, etc. etc. etc.

"If our above programme is neglected and overlooked and not acted upon, we regret to say that we will be compelled to do serious injuries to the Hindus such as setting fire to their buildings bungalows, mandirs stores, godowns, shops; wells would be poisoned and general thefts be committed.

"If still the Hindus would not agree to our proposals we would be forced to inflict very heavy losses such as committing murder, causing death, etc., etc. until we are satisfied. The families challenged in our June programme would be our first victims, and the general Hindu public at the same time should not their critical position. The tehsils and villages will be dealt with afterwards.

"The Frontier Government and the Sikh inhabitants of the D. I. Khan district are requested to remain neutral, if not, both should wait for our "Second Alarm" unsigned.

Fradgley took the thirteenth and halved the fourteenth and fifteenth, but Harris won the sixteenth from a fine tee-shot. The seventeenth was halved. THE HARWOOD LEAGUE.

WEST YORKS AND R. A. DRAW.

A SPLENDID GAME.

The opening match of the Harwood Football League played on Satusday between the West Yorks and Royal Artillery resulted in a draw after a close game replete with thrills and excitement. The football fans mustered strong, the spacious stand being nearly full and there could be no doubt that they appreciated the game. The game was fairly even throughout four goals being shared by the teams after each had taken the lead. Perhaps the Gunners were slightly the superior team, indulging in smart crisp passes of the grasscutting variety. They certainly should have taken a decisive lead in the last ten minutes had it not been for several glaring mistakes by the forwards. Day for the R. A. was in his element and his side have to thank him for extricating them out of one or two nasty predicaments. In fact he it was who overtook the speedy Pulleston when the latter had only to sprint down and score. In the latter part of the game he had the misfortune of getting crocked in the left leg but played on pluckily. Barker was another who took the eye for his knack of doing the right thing at the right moment. Both the custodian Stewart and Roberts covered themselves with glory by effecting some marvellous saves. For the Yorks. Company Sgt. Major Everard was the mainstay of the team his headwork being a feature of the game. In the defence Lt. Jones was responsible for some hefty booting which kept his opponents slightly more than at arm's length.

The West Yorks were the first to settle down and after less than ten minutes play took the lead through Pulleston who worked into position by his own efforts. This reverse had a steadying influence on the Gunners who concentrated on the short passing game with marked success. They soon had their opponents guessing and following a pretty bout between the innertrio Bacon beat Stewart at close range. At this stage the gunners were playing with perfect confidence and before half time they had taken the lead Bacon heading in from a corner kick. Stewart, previous to this, had earned a round of applause by saving a bewildering salvo from the whole R. A. line.

The Yorks began the second half in determined fashion and Roberts had an anxious moment when he threw the ball clear after being brought to his knees. He had to save again on three more occasions, Day bringing relief with a mighty boot into touch. It was now the Gunners' turn to attack and Bacon was almost through again with a header but somehow Stewart managed to get his foot to it. Jones' clearance sent his line away in good order Worton's pass to Godley bringing the equaliser through the latter's first timer which glanced in, off the upright. The play seemed to deteriorate after this and ballooning and miskicking was not infrequent. The Gunners were however the more confident and on several occasions broke right through only to be baffled at the last moment. First Davies then Bunyan missed possibles, and then Davies headed the ball a trifle away. The Yorks were not idle though hitting the cross-bar with a stinger. Ding-dong play continued upto full-time neither side getting ahead.

The teams were:—

West Yorks:—Stewart; Lt. Jones and Bewron; Rhodes. C.S.M. Everard and Bristow; Worton, Godley, Pulleston, Taylor and McHale.

Royal Artillery:—Roberts; Day and Harding, Barker, Fieldhouse and Mowat; Thorne, Bunyan, Bacon, Davies and Waite.

Referee:—Mr. Cummings.

OPEN DRAIN IN POOR LOCALITIES.

Mr. S. H. Jhabwalla writes:—

On behalf of the Purity Mission among the poor Mr. Jhabwalla communicated a grave grievance at De Lisle Road in the poor localities near the Diam Mills, where a large amount of dirt lay for weeks together gravely injuring the health of the poor classes of the people residing there. Fortunately the Municipal authorities remedied the evil soon. There is a very filthy spot opposite the Elphinstone Road Station leading to the poor chawls at De Lisle Road, where for the last so many weeks overflow of dirt and mud from the drain has been lying to the ruin of the people's health. Also at the same place fruits and vegetable of a most injurious nature are being sold further adding to the rum of the poor people's health. It is upto the Municipal authorities both Roads and Health Department to completely remove the nuisance. The lives of the poor are held in low esteem by the rich but the Municipalities stand for the health of the poor as well as the rich. It is hoped that the Health Department will endeavour to investigate various such places where the health of the poor is exposed to danger and will take the initiative in their hands for the adoption of measures to clean such dangerous spots.

NEED TO ORGANISE.

DR. GOUR'S ADVICE TO BURMA INDIANS.

RANGOON, May 31.

A well-attended meeting representative of the various Indian communities was held yesterday in the Rice Merchants' Association Hall for the purpose of forming an Indian Association. Sir H. S. Gour presided and delivered a lengthy speech in the course of which he said individuals in Burma were not enamoured of the sea passenger tax bill which had not yet received the assent of the Governor-General and if he were to take his stand in the Legislative Assembly he would have to admit that he had no means of ascertaining the opinion of the Indians settled in Burma. They should organise themselves into a body to lend force and add strength to their collective opinion. It did not matter by whatever name the body was called provided there was some channel from which those who were anxious to ascertain the views of Indians settled here could do so. He had no doubt that the Burma Government at times felt great difficulty as to whom they should consult and whom to ask on matters pertaining to Indian settlers. He was glad to find Burmans in organised body and asked Indians to follow the Burmans in this respect. He said with these two associations in existence there would grow a fraternal feeling between the two communities for the betterment of both. He advocated the creation of an Association for the sole and single purpose of recording the views and at times ventilating the grievances of the Indians who had settled and made Burma their home. Finally he said that if they wished to start an Association they must make it their personal duty and personal concern that the Association lived, thrived, developed and invigorated.

It was finally decided that the Association should be called the Indian Association of Burma with headquarters in Rangoon. Mr. N. M. Cowasjee, Barrister, has been elected its President. Committees were appointed to draft constitution and collect funds.—A. P.

MIDDLE BE CLASS UNEMPLOYMENT.

PROF WILLIAMS SUGGESTS REMEDIES.

SIMLA, May 30.

Professor, Rushbrook Williams, Director of Public Information, expressed his personal views as a witness before the Economic Enquiry Committee to-day. He favoured an initial economic survey, as well as periodical surveys and, at the same time urged maintenance of continuous collection and check of data. The most immediate problem confronting any economic survey, he affirmed, was the middle class unemployment, remedy for which lay partly in overhauling the present educational system and partly in the encouragement of industries so as to provide billets for men with technical education. A good deal of Government propaganda was necessary to make people appreciate the necessity for technical education. In the witness's opinion the information collected in various parts of the country must be collated by a central statistical organisation helped by provincial organisations. As regards provincial figures about one per cent of the Provincial Governments' income could be spent for collecting detailed statistics, while the expenditure by the Central Government should not be less.—A. POLITIES IN MAHARASHTRA.

ance which will not last, unless Mr. Patel takes up, in sympathy with Poona demands, a truculent attitude against Muslim political claims.

Maratha Sacrifice.

Except with the few devoted adherents of Khaddar propaganda who swear by Mahatmaji's political method, there are hardly any educated workers in the Deccan who have either any love or respect for that method. The unfortunate thing is that the Deccani adherents of Gandhiji have no leader of maturity of experience, or strength of conviction. Mr. Gangadharrao Deshpande is too far away from the scene of their political labour; Mr. N. C. Kelkar, who is of course in the other camp, but who has the curious distinction of being above petty political squabbles will have apparently nothing to do with them. They have not relished his attitude about the Muslims because in the excitement of their enthusiasm, they were unable to appreciate his view that there are limits to a Satyagraha as conducted against a private industrial firm, whose presumptuous shortcoming it is that it tries to arrogate to itself the privileges of a public utility concern. They have not appreciated his attitude about National Education, which in their opinion has been distressingly lukewarm; their only leader of experience is an old political platform warrior Prof. S. M. Paranjpye, who is too busy with his private and journalistic activities to lead. The sacrifice of the youngmen has been remarkable, but as the Maratha spirit is hardly accomodating, difference of political opinion has led to inexcurable candour in criticism of each other, and to the delight of the local "Light of Knowledge" the "Dnyan-Prakasha," the two nationalists camps in Poona, even after the showering of "Shanti" at Belgaum continue to engage in unedifying verbal duels. The "Light of Knowledge" gives out but a flickering flame, but it pictures accurately the feelings of the constellation of Rao Bahadurs in the Deccan Club in Poona which occasionally registers mild protests against some repressive measures and then relapses into bridge, or tennis. The non-Brahmin parties in Poona, which have their two sections, as everything else in Poona, are only occasionally vocal, but when they are, the Jodhe Mansion element loves to import into the discussions the use of fisticuffs. Nobody minds and everybody and everything goes along happily, the College students with their futile discussions about whether Tilak is great or Gandhi greater, the Spring lectures with their intellectual gymnastics, the Municipality with its endless discussions, and the Indo-British settled down in their bungalows on the outskirts of the city with their English games and amusements and their contempt for everything which looks "national." But Poona is the home nonetheless of marked examples of personal sacrifice, which lives and prospers in the shape of a variety of institutions. A group of men here has devoted itself to the work of secondary education. Immediately in the true spirit of agressive individualism, other groups arise, and they build institutions of their own for the same purpose. Another band of workers is there devoted to the cause of woman's education. Here at least is a field of activity where the moderate and the nationalist can work together. But it has not been the fortune of Poona that such a charity of spirit should come to exist as would make people forget their politics when they come to consider a subject essentially beyond the range of controversial political issue, like women's education. There are societies for the preservation of this, or the amelioration of that, each of them run by some enthusiastic spirit or group, very enthusiastic but frequently unresponsive and suspicions of outside criticism. And the wonder is, all this manifold public activity is conducted with meagre financial reserve, and distressingly small chances of attracting to it younger blood. And what is true of Poona is true of all Maharashtra.

The Feeling Against Gandhiji.

In all this manifestation of individual effort, there is one direction in which throughout Maharashtra Hindu opinion can coalesce. Tilak gave a glamour to the Shivaji saga, and through patriotic excitement tried to awaken the old feeling, in danger of being forgotten through the help of the educated Brahmin who was "loyally" serving the British before the "Kesari" arrived on the scene, that the Marathas were within living memory a great and a ruling race. But from whom had they set themselves free? From the Muslim rulers. Every historical play which has achieved success on the boards deals with this theme. The Ganapati festivals whatever the original intention of their organisers, dealt with this theme, and now comes Gandhiji and says in effect "Between the Mahomedan and the cow, I will let the cow the go-bye." To my mind nothing has shocked the Marathas more than this sentiment; nothing else operated upon them so effectively in convincing them that the Mahatma was letting down the Hindus miserably. It is not the yarn-franchise which rankles in the Maratha mind, it is not the boycott of the Councils, about which the Mahratta ryot did not care either way; it is the philosophy behind the Gandhi attitude with reference to Hindu-Muslim relations which remains incomprehensible to the Maharashtrian.

HINDUS' DETERIORATION.

PUNJAB HINDU CONFERENCE.

AMRITSAR, May 30.

With a fairly large gathering including about a thousand delegates some ladies and several visitors the second session of the Punjab Hindu Conference opened here in the local Hindu Sabha College this morning at 8-30.

After prayer and the chanting of hymns, Lala Dunichand, Chairman of the Reception Committee in his address spoke of the deplorable condition of the Hindus all over the country, the sangathan movement and the excesses committed against the Hindus by the Mahomedans. He said that the policy of the present Education Minister in the Punjab had borne fruit and pointed out the need of physical culture among the Hindus. He also urged that an equal proportion of Hindus should be recruited into the police.

In the absence of Lala Lajpatrai who could not arrive here to-day Dr. Gokalchand Naurang, M.L.C., of Lahore was duly elected president of the conference. He delivered an extempore address lasting for over two hours in which he said that the Hindus were suffering in numerical strength, physique, prestige and economic prosperity which he attributed to the social degredation of the community due to their physical deterioration. As remedies to all these troubles he suggested the abolition of early marriage, removal of caste distinction and untouchability.

STRENGTHEN POSITION OF PUNJAB HINDUS.

He took the opportunity to draw the attention of the Hindus of the other provinces to the fact that the Punjab was the gateway to India; like the Dutch dams it was saving the country from all foreign aggression including the Bolshevik menace and it became the Hindus of other provinces to strengthen the hands of the Hindus of this province. He also said that the machinery of the Sangathan movement could not be complete without large funds at the disposal of their central organisation for which he suggested that if the Hindus could manage they should also take hold of the large properties of their places of worship and get some legislation passed for the use of their incomes. Referring to the happenings in Kohat he said that the Hindus were no longer to blame. He said that the Government of India as well as the Frontier Government had shown weakness in handling the situation there. Referring to the abstention of the Hindus from entering the Lahore and the Ambala Municipalities Dr. Naurang said that the Government should either mend matters or end the administration. He deprecated the educational policy of the Punjab Minister. Referring to the Gurdwara Bill he said that it was before the select committee now. He had come across Udasis who complained of the injustice done to them. He suggested that the Udasis should properly formulate their demands and further requested the Akalis to compose their differences with Udasis by showing some leniency to their demands. After the address was over the General Secretary announced that Lala Lajpatrai would be coming here on the 31st and the Conference was adjourned till this evening. The subjects committee is holding its sitting and is discussing the resolutions that are to come up for consideration before the conference. In the same pandal a kavi durbar was held to-day in which several Hindi poets recited their compositions dealing with subjects relating to the Hindus.—A. P.

V. Tilak and a dozen other persons came from Bombay specially to attend the function. Civil Surgeon, Alibag, and a fair number of doctors from the Kolaba District and Janjira State were also present. Letters of sympathy for the Social were received from Dr. T. D. Welankar, Rao Baladur Dr. D. V. Shikhare, Mr. J. Abbott, Collector of Kolaba and ten other persons. The Honorary Secretary thanked Mr. G. K. Devadhar and the Poona Seva Sadan Society for gladly undertaking to bear the expenses in connection with the Social and expressed the hope that a District Medical Society would be formed for the promotion of the welfare of Doctors and of the people of the Kolaba District. Mr. G. K. Devadhar, who presided, emphasised the necessity for a close co-operation between the social workers like himself in the field of nursing and medical relief and the Doctors of the Kolaba District for the attainment of the common aim of relieving the suffering and maintaining the health of the people of this District. He said that though he could not guide their deliberations in purely medical questions he would try his best to discharge his duties in other respects. He finally stated that the office of the Kolaba Maternity and Nursing Home of which he was the Honorary Organizer could be made available for the use of the proposed Medical Society. In the evening the acting President of the Kolaba District Local Board read a paper on "the problem of medical relief in the villages" in the course of which he showed that nearly 80 per cent. of the people in this district had no public provision for medical relief. He finally appealed to the Doctors assembled to co operate and devise means to render medical aid to at least the more important of the villages and observed that if a practicable scheme would be forthcoming the District Local Board could be usefully appealed to for financial and other help. The next day the adjourned meeting was held when two papers on Medical subjects were read and discussed. Dr. T. D. Welanker's paper on the formation of a Medical Relief Society for giving free or cheap treatment to the poor was read and recorded. The meeting finally deliberated on the question of establishing a Medical Society and it was resolved unanimously that such a society should be formed and be hereby formed of the registered medical practitioners of this district and of outside practitioners interested in the weefare of this district. A committee consisting of Dr. Fylanto, Civil Surgeon, Alibag, Dr. H. V. Tilak and Dr. P. S. Bhat was appointed to draft rules and prepare a budget for the first year.

PORT TRUSTEES' MEETING.

DISPOSAL OF SEWAGE.

The Acting Secretary of the Bombay Port Trust writes:—

The Trustees of the Port of Bombay at their meeting held on 26th instant, considered the report of their Marine Committee on the revised Municipal proposals for the discharge of sewage effluent into the Harbour and after full consideration the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—

"The Trustees are still of opinion that the best method of disposing of the Bombay sewage is to discharge it into the open sea.

"In view, however, of the new proposals put forward by the Bombay Municipal Corporation, the Trustees are prepared to agree to these proposals subject to the following provisos:—

(1) As regards the southern portion of the Island, that the position selected for the outfall at Colaba and the general details of the scheme be approved by the Trustees.

(2) As regards the centre portion of the Island, that the existing outfall at Love Grove be adhered to.

(3) As regards the northern portion of the Island:—

(a) that all the sewage be dealt with by a purification process and that the effluent be rendered entirely innocuous and non-putrescent;

(b) that the position of the outfall at Kurla Creek does not interfere with any proposals of the Trustees concerning the siting of any new Dock scheme;

(c) that the Port Trust Consultants report favourably on the method of purification.

"The Trustees further consider it necessary to put on record their opinion that if it should be necessary at any future date to close the Kurla Creek in connection with reclamation or development schemes, the liability of the Municipality to undertake such extension of the outfall as may be necessary should then be considered and in the event of a settlement not being reached between the Municipality and the Port Trust on the question of such liability, the matter should be referred to Government for decision.

"Further the Trustees are not prepared under any conditions to agree to any unpurified sewage being discharged into the harbour or to any sewage from the adjoining areas outside Bombay Island being discharged, whether purified or not, into the Harbour, except in small isolated cases."

Tenders for the supply of steel girder work and steel through flooring for the new transit shed under construction at Berth No. 9, Alexandra Dock, were considered and the recommendation of the Marine Committee that the tender of Messrs. Braithwaite and Co. aggregating approximately Rs. 5¾ lakhs, (against the relative estimate of Rs. 7.31 lakhs) was accepted, delivery being guaranteed within 32 weeks.

Estimates amounting to Rs. 31,600 were sanctioned for the provision of monsoon protective measures at two of the Cotton Depot Railway Sheds, Mazagon Sewree viz.: treatment of the roofs with Maithoid, paving of the platform floors with tar macadam to prevent damage to cotton bales from rain water and mud, and providing a rain-proof protection on the western side of the open sheds.

A proposal by the Chairman who approved that in future tenders and quotations for stores or materials estimated to exceed Rs. 5,000 in value should be invited by public advertisement.

Certain recommendations submitted by the Chief Accountant for improving the method of allocating Engineering, Workshops and Stores charges over Capital and Revenue works were considered and adopted.

Notice of a motion by Mr. L. R. Tairsee regarding the desirability of improving the arrangements for embarkation and disembarkation of pilgrims in the Docks was withdrawn by the mover in view of his intention to propose an alternative resolution calling for enquiry into the passenger arrangements generally at the Docks

BOMBAY'S GREAT DESTINY

HER ACHIEVEMENTS AND FAILURES

MR. JAMNADAS ON HER FUTURE PLACE.

Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas delivered a lecture on "the place of Bombay in India of to-day and of the future" at the Framji Cowasji Hall on Saturday evening, Mr. H. P. Mody presiding. The lecture was held under the auspices of the Parsi Young Men's Association.

Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas said that immediately after he left the college he spoke on the very same subject. Being rather young and over enthusiastic and rather impulsive, he ended by offending the majority of the audience. Sir Justice Beaman who presided said that he could not associate himself with single word of his continuing he said with eleven years of experience he had become wiser and it would not be a mailed fist he would be hurling at them that evening but a mailed fist in a velvet glove. It might be, his point of view might not be should by many. But he would assure them that he was moved by best of motives.

Bombay did not occupy the place she really ought to occupy. Bombay had played a great part but it was still going to play a more important part in the future. He meant no insult to other provinces, when he said Bombay had certain characteristics that made her best fitted to play a prominent part in the evolution of India. He was speaking of Bombay city and not of the province.

He meant that evening to speak of his conception of India as it was to-day, what India would be in future and what would be Bombay's share in attaining that aim.

A "FORTUNATE" MAN.

As a theosophist he believed that human beings could have a glimpse of the plan according to which the world was to evolve. Such glimpses were seen by a number of persons who had attained perfection. He, too, had the fortune to have glimpses of the future plan of the world. So looking at it from that angle it seemed to him that in that plan India had a prominent part and that Bombay had to play a great part and he meant to point out certain blemishes of Bombay which if removed, she would play her part more efficiently.

The justification of the British coming to India in the plan of world evolution was that influence of foreign power was necessary when British succeeded in getting India. Mr. Jamnadas then dwelt upon the chaos in which India was then plunged in. They had India with mighty part and plunged into an abyss of darkness. The influence of Britain, the keynote of whose progress is energy was absolutely necessary. India stood for wonderful ideas. The lofty ideals of the East were not yet shared by the Western nations. The idea was of perfection—the unificatiton with One who is their real Abode. that was the aim and ideal of Eastern conception. All that the world had to offer was considered as empty nothingness. Self-Realisat on was the one aim of the East. They had all these wonderful ideas of realisation of self within them. But there was no driving force. There was no striving towards that aim. Their feet were not safely set on the physical plane and yet they soared to high aims. They wanted the influence of the wonderful nation whose keynote was energy. It was equally essential that that Westerners who had no such lofty ideas to make them grasp those ideas that would lift them from petty mindedness of materialism. That was the blending of two civilisations for the purpose of the evolution of a mighty civilization

BLENDING OF CIVILISATION.

Continuing Mr. Jamnadas said that there was the divine hand seen when of all the places in India, Bombay was closen. It was because Bombay had got materials which, if properly used were bound to occupy a prominent place in the evolution of India. It had all the elements that helped the blending of the two civilizations —a blending devoutly to be wished for. Bombay, it is said, was the most westernized of all the cities in India. But all the same, Bombay has not left its Indian traits. It does not believe in castes, creeds and beliefs It is open to all. Their very life in Bombay made them all interdependent. That was seen to a marked degree in commercial circles. It was the need of living life that had made them to pull on well together. They had in Bombay naturally to build up a civilization where communal strife had no place. There was something beautiful in the very idea of brotherhood. Take all religions and they would find emphasis laid on the idea of Brotherhood. In Bombay they could not afford to quarrel. If only they could turn the idea from narrow selfishness to a higher idea of the ideal of the fulfilment of attainment of perfection, they would have achieved much. Bombay had got activity. Just as South was the centre of knowledge Bombay was the centre of activity. That was why Bombay occupied a prominent place, in industry and commerce and that was why they had the reputation of being practical men who mean business.

Side by side with these goods points they had some defects.

AN IRRELIGIOUS LIFE

Bombay was under the worst clutches of western life. Their education was devoid of religion. They lead a life of excitement and sensation, and after the day's work of making up one's pile was over they went after artificial pursuits of enjoyment. They lived in an excited atmosphere of striving to get the better of their neighbour. This narrowed them down to make them selfish beings. A speculator was not necessarily a bad man, but his doings lead to the starvation of hundreds and hundreds of human beings. He was so self-absorbed that it did not matter if, as a result of his doings prices went down or rose up, with the starvation of numerous families. It would be a different thing if it was an individual. But when it became a general characteristic of a people it had necessarily disastrous effect upon the community as a whole. This ugly character of self-centredness might emerge into a subline idea of brotherhood if directed properly. But they could not deny that the present phase was ugly. They thought they must go to clubs and ape the manners of the worst specimens of westerners in gambling, drinking and smoking. They must look upon gambling as something that helped them in Society. They must drink since it made their access to society easier. They must speak the foreign language and take pride in saying that they had forgotten their mother tongue, and above all they must do the foreign attire. He knew that side by side with the adoption of what was good in the west they must necessarily have these defects. But what he meant was to introduce some refinement and culture in what they did. They in Bombay lacked the living vision of looking at things.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM

Mr. Jamnadas then referred very feelingly to the problem of unemployment that was staring them in their very face and the condition of the wage-earners especially of the women. Bombay to be true to herself, said Mr. Jamnadas, must see that with the importation of the good elements of western civilization was not dead to the Eastern ideal of brotherhood which made both the Capitalist and wage earner alive to the fact that they were Asiatics all—and that the same spark of Divine Being was running through them all.

Mr. Jamnadas wound off his speech by saying if Bombay could give up with its attitude of self-centredness and rise to the height of co-operation brotherhood, combined efforts for the well-being of the world, Bombay would certainly play the part she was destined to play in the evolution of India of the future. And India of the future was a mighty country to live for and die for when the era of competition the era of self-centredness would have given place to an era of co-operation of brotherhood and of unselfishness, and it would be such a pity if Bombay were to throw off the opportunity of helping in the achievement of that wonderful goal.

Mr. H. P. Mody then thanked the speaker for the thoughful address to which he had treated them.

UNAUTHORISED LOTTERIES.

TWO EUROPRANS ARRESTED.

MADRAS, May 29.

According to a correspondent of the "Hindu" as a consequence of a search made at Bombay some ten days ago by the Bombay police in connection with the supposed existence of an organisation for conducting unauthorised lotteries in British India with Pondicherry as the place of shuffling two Europeans by name A. M. Hawley and Herbert Carberry have been arrested at Pondicherry by the French India Government. When they were examined by the committing Magistrate of French India at Pondicherry, they declined to say anything. Carberry came down to Pondicherry some three months ago and is alleged to have been telling people that he was organising a big commercial and industrial concern. During the past fortnight money-orders and insured covers to the approximate value of thirty thousand rupees address to him have been received at the Post Office at Pondicherry but the Post Master under instructions from the remitters declined to deliver them to Carberry although he threatened the Post Master with legal proceedings. It is learnt that Carberry has already received many thousands of rupees from a large number of people at Bombay, Karachi and other places in British India in connection with the lottery which was to have been shuffled at Pondicherry.

A William Martin who was working under Carberry as his head clerk has obtained an order of attachment from the Civil Court at Pondicherry for attaching six hundred rupees being the balance of the salary due to him in his capacity as head clerk of Carberry. The attachment order has been duly communicated to the Post Master. Carberry has himself filed a civil suit before the Civil Court, praying for a decree against the Post Master.
